Launched in 2009 by Australian entrepreneur Geoff Rosenhain, Gator Group has quickly grown into a full-service licensing agency offering the unique combination of seasoned licensing executives coupled with expertise in product design and manufacturing. Gator Group provides a wide range of services for a focused group of strategic corporate partners as well as wholly owned brands. The company shares equity in and manages the worldwide licensing for fashion lifestyle brand Birdie, and legendary sportswear brand ACA Joe. In addition, Gator Group is the global licensing agent for renowned fashion brand Paul Frank Industries as well as style icon and publishing phenomenon Emily the Strange. Also an electronics accessories licensee, the company manufactures and markets a range of protective cases for Apple iPods, iPhones and laptops with distribution worldwide. Gator Group is headquartered in Dana Point, California with offices in Los Angeles, Hong Kong and Paris. For additional information please visit www.gatorgroup.com.
